

HOUSE PHYSICIAN MAKES HIS REPORT

Pujo Will Not Make It Public
Till Full Committee Has It.

ROCKEFELLER IS SICK MAN

Understood That Statements of His Personal Doctor
Are Verified.

Miami, Fla., January 13.—William Rockefeller, whose testimony is wanted by the House money trust investigating committee, left Miami to-night at 8 o'clock for Palm Beach, Fla. He was accompanied by his wife, his sons, William G. and Percy A. Rockefeller, and his personal physician, Dr. Walter F. Chappell.

All members of the party refused to answer any questions regarding the probability of Mr. Rockefeller appearing as a witness before the money trust committee. The New York millionaire talked freely about local topics, but declined to discuss his plans. He spoke with little difficulty, although at times his voice wavered and sank almost to a whisper.

Just previous to his departure he visited a number of local stores, where he made several purchases. He also went into a public barber shop and was shaved.

To outward appearance he appeared stronger than upon his arrival here yesterday from Nassau, N. P., where he spent several days.

Dr. Charles W. Richardson, Washington, who examined Mr. Rockefeller yesterday to ascertain if the millionaire's physical condition is such that he may safely testify before the committee, left this morning for Washington.

Dr. Richardson, before his departure, again declined to make public the result of his examination which has been transmitted to Chairman Pujo, of the House committee.

Finds Him a Sick Man.

Washington, January 13.—Dr. C. W. Richardson, who examined William Rockefeller, at Miami, Fla., for the House money trust investigating committee, to determine whether the magnate was physically able to give testimony, has made his report.

Chairman Pujo will not make it public until after it has been presented to the full membership of the House Banking and Currency Committee. It is understood, however, that Dr. Richardson found Mr. Rockefeller suffering from the ailments described in affidavits filed by him with the committee by his physician as "gouty" inflammation of the larynx, which had necessitated six operations.

Dr. Richardson will testify regarding his examination before the committee Wednesday, so the session which has been set for to-morrow will be advanced one day.

BLANCHE BATES LOSES BOOKS.

Literary of Actress on Her Country Place
Destroyed by Fire.

Oakland, N. Y., January 12.—A barn belonging to Miss Blanche Bates, the actress, at a little over three miles from here, which housed a valuable library, bowling alley and garage, was destroyed by fire early yesterday. The cause is unknown. An alarm brought the chemical engine from here, but the firemen arrived too late.

The library was extensively fitted, and held a valuable collection of books and bric-a-brac. It was in this room that Miss Bates was married recently to George C. Bates. Her car and one belonging to her chauffeur, Sidney Yardley, were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $10,000. Miss Bates is now in Denver on her honeymoon.

BOYS ACCUSE PASTOR; FORCED TO RESIGN

Rev. Sydney Cross, Centre of Sensation, Leaves Town
After Threats Are Made.

New York, January 13.—The Rev. Sydney Cross, for six years pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Westfield, N. J., has resigned at the demand of the vestry because of charges made against him by choir boys. His resignation was read to the congregation yesterday morning. He is an Englishman, forty-two years old, unmarried, and has done much toward building up the church.

Mr. Cross left town Saturday, following an intimation from one of the vestrymen that he had better go at once, as threats of physical violence were being made.

Criminal prosecution has been discussed, but lawyers say it is not yet clear whether the alleged offense comes within the statutes.

Vestrymen declare the facts will be placed before Bishop John Scarboro, of Trenton, and that further church action may result.

Boy Accused the Pastor.

The charges against Mr. Cross took definite form a week ago yesterday. That afternoon the second son of John W. McGuire, No. 128 Dudley Avenue, Westfield, who is in business in New York, made statements to his father about Mr. Cross's familiarities.

Mr. McGuire at once communicated with one of the vestrymen, who heard the story of the boy, a lad of about twelve. Other choir boys were summoned. Some told stories similar to that of young McGuire; others denied they had seen anything amiss in Mr. Cross's conduct.

A meeting of the eight members of the vestry was held later in the afternoon. Cross officiated at vespers that day, his last appearance in the pulpit.

That evening at 8 o'clock seven vestrymen, headed by Senior Warden Barr, marched to the parish house. The other members are M. E. Newcombe, J. H. Pencheon, J. H. H. Ganzel, C. H. Griffiths, John Sparks, Halver and F. J. Smith.

"A Grim and Terrible Duty." "It was a grim and terrible duty we had to perform," Mr. Barr, who made the formal announcement of Mr. Cross's resignation, said to a reporter yesterday, "and we all hope we shall never be called upon again to go through such an experience."

The meeting lasted until 1 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Barr opened the proceedings by telling the pastor what the choir boys' charges were. Cross was dumbfounded; then he became distraught. He neither affirmed nor denied the charges. Mr. Barr said, in turns each of the seven vestrymen asked him questions.

Mr. Barr, "but he did not break down to the point of weeping."

"We shall not leave this house until you do resign," was the ultimatum of the vestry.

Finally Cross wrote out his resignation. He insisted it should not take effect until February 1. The vestry assented to this as a matter of form, but told Cross Wednesday the resignation was formally accepted and the work of finding a new pastor was begun.

He felt it his duty to expose Cross. When seen by a reporter yesterday Mr. McGuire said:

"When I learned what my son had told me I felt it my duty to the public, as well as to myself, to let the facts become known."

"Will you proceed criminally?" "I have considered it, but I do not believe I shall if Cross stays out of Westfield."

Campbell Cross, brother of the accused clergyman, said:

"The charges have not been proved and cannot be in my opinion. My brother has left Westfield for a few days on account of ill health, but will return. He has plenty of friends and supporters in Westfield who will stand by him."

Mr. Cross is said to be an excellent pulpit orator, a fine organizer and a good executive. He has written much on theological topics. Before going to Westfield he was assistant curate of All Angels' Episcopal Church, Eighty-first Street and West End Avenue, this city.

Dead Couple, Wealthy, Had Been Leaders in Smart Circles.

San Francisco, January 12.—Donald Jadwin, son of a wealthy Brooklyn family, shot and killed his wife, Minnie Van Vergen Jadwin, well-known in society here, as she sat at dinner with other members of the family to-night. He then shot himself, dying two hours later.

The couple had been married seven months and until a short time ago had been leaders in the smart circles in which Mrs. Jadwin's family held a high place. She was nineteen years old and her husband six years older.

For two months the young couple lived with Mrs. John A. Bauer, the wealthy grandmother of Mrs. Jadwin, in Pacific Avenue. According to members of the family, Jadwin and his wife quarreled ten days ago and the young husband left the house in a rage.

To-night, when all the family, including the young wife's mother, grandmother, aunt and brother, were at dinner, Jadwin came into the dining room, apparently happy and ready for reconciliation. He approached his wife smiling, kissed her tenderly and in a flash whipped out two revolvers and shot twice.

Both bullets took effect and the young woman died instantly. Before the horrified relatives could move, Jadwin placed the muzzle of one of the revolvers to his head and pulled the trigger. He fell unconscious and was immediately rushed to a hospital, where he died later.

The wedding of the dashing young woman and Jadwin was one of the leading society events of the city last June.

Until recently Jadwin spent all of his time at home or at the clubs in several of which he held membership. From his father, he had inherited a substantial interest in a wholesale drug company in Brooklyn, now conducted by his brothers. For the last few weeks he has been connected with the auditing department of the General Petroleum Company.

Mother Is Not Told.

New York, January 13.—Donald Jadwin, son of a wealthy Brooklyn family, was formerly associated with his father and several brothers in the wholesale drug firm of O. H. Jadwin and Company, of this city. His mother is in delicate health and when the news of the tragedy reached the Jadwin home to-night she was not informed.

Agents of $100,000,000 Foundation Ask Congress to Act.

Washington, January 13.—A vigorous campaign to counteract the Rockefeller Foundation in the District of Columbia has been begun by advocates of the project, who have obtained headquarters in the office of the Rockefeller Sanitary Commission, in this city. The bill to incorporate the foundation passed by the House of Representatives last Monday, and action on it was prevented through the absence of a quorum.

The main objection to the incorporation is that it contemplates placing the expenditure of too much money in the hands of a few men. The foundation is $100,000,000 in capital, and has been amended in several particulars to meet objections.

It is the purpose of those furthering the project to have the bill introduced in the House at the present session of Congress. Even if the opposition indicates that it may be defeated, the foundation is endeavoring to obtain a vote in each house, in order to get Senators and Representatives on record. Jerome D. Greene, Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, and now a trustee of that institution, is in Washington as the representative of the foundation. Mr. Greene asserts that the press of the country has been practically unanimous in saying that the bill, as amended, ought to pass.

Cold Plunge Is a Sure Cure.
